Quotes:

"...There's husbandry in heaven;
Their candles are all out."

"Is this a dagger which I see before me,
The handle toward my hand? Come, let me clutch thee.

I have thee not, and yet I see thee still.

Art thou not, fatal vision, sensible
To feeling as to sight? or art thou but
A dagger of the mind, a false creation,
Proceeding from the heat-oppressed brain?"

"Will all great Neptune's ocean wash this blood

Clean from my hand? No, this my hand will rather

The multitudinous seas in incarnadine,
Making the green one red."

"My hands are of your colour; but I shame
To wear a heart so white...

A little water clears us of this deed:"

"...If a man were porter of hell-gate, he should have old turning the key."

"Most sacrilegious murder hath broke ope
The Lord's anointed temple, and stole thence
The life o' the building!"

"Who can be wise, amazed, temperate and furious,

Loyal and neutral, in a moment?"

"I'll to England."

"To Ireland, I; our separated fortune
Shall keep us both the safer: where we are,
There's daggers in men's smiles:"

"...this sore night

Hath trifled former knowings."
