Admissions Communication

Dear Student,

Following the government announcement of the closure of schools and the cancellation of examinations and assessments in England, we want to reassure you that we are taking pro-active steps to plan and prepare for you to start your studies with us.

We understand that these are uncertain and anxious times and we're committed to ensuring all applicants have the best opportunity to study at Gloucestershire College.

What is happening at the moment?

Gloucestershire College is continuing to speak with the relevant government departments and independent organisations responsible for education in England. Therefore, we'll be well prepared for different scenarios and able to support applicants through the process.

Can I still apply and what is happening with my application?

You can still apply for a course or make changes to your application through our website: www.gloscol.ac.uk. Our Admissions Team is still available and working hard in the background to process all applications ready for your studies to start with us.

We want to reassure you that if you have applied for one of our courses and you've been made a conditional offer, that place is still there for you.

Is there anything I need to do?

We encourage you to continue with your study and progression plans, as the work you're doing now will put you in a strong position to start your studies with us.

It is important to read all of our email communications over the coming months so that you are aware of and understand what is required of you in order to join your first choice course.

How do I keep updated about the College and my application?

We will keep you updated as the situation develops through our website, social media channels and email.
